VOL. XXXII.

BUTLER, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, APRIL 7, 1910.

NUMBER 24

VIRGINIA.

Fred Drysdale, of Amoret, spent Tuesday night of last week with his grandma, Mrs. G. W. Park. He came after maple trees to plant on their resident lot in Amoret.

D. C. Wolfe planted corn last week.

Mrs. Will McKibben spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Ollie Walker, at Kansas City, who is afflicted with the measles.

Ed. Smith's wife was with him Saturday to see that he did not do too much talking while delivering the mail.

The Charlotte Telephone Co. voted to increase their capital stock at their meeting Thursday of last week.

Tink Hedger put the concrete arch on Mrs. Rachel Park's cellar last week.

The big rain in Parktown Saturday afternoon was almost a cloud burst. Some hail fell but did no damage.

Henry Oldham received a letter from his sister, Mrs. Frank Zinn, of Mindon, Mo., that Frank who was thrown from a loaded wagon at that place some time ago and badly hurt was able to move his hands and feet a little.

Some of our people had to come home from Butler in the rain Saturday.

Virgil Jenkins says the farmers keep him busy fixing their plows.

Truman Gilbert, the weather forecaster, says it will be time to plant corn before long.

Geo. Rubel is the proud owner of twin mules.

L. L. Judy is buying eggs.

Wonder when the good people around Virginia will call a meeting to make arrangements for the State Wide Prohibition Campaign? Will some good brother be like Bryan, break silence and call a meeting.

The wireless message that Young

Aaron picked up sometime ago that there would be a wedding soon and the groom would be from a distant land and the bride would be a beautiful and accomplished young lady of this vicinity. Now there are 4 young ladies and each one thinks she is the one hinted at. Young Aaron is glad that there are so many young ladies with such bright prospects for titled husbands from abroad. But Young Aaron does feel sorry for the home young men that are waiting on these young ladies so attentively with their minds full of bright prospects for the time, like the young peoples meetings, be united, never dreaming that the union will be with the fellow from abroad and they will be left broken hearted to mourn the departed. But do not let the gladness and sorrow of these titled prospective weddings dim your vision of the pretty home wedding nearly due.

A band has been organized at Virginia and in order to raise expense money they will give Saturday night, April 16th, a concert and literary program. The young people of Amsterdam and Hume have been kind enough to lend assistance and there is no doubt but what there will be an interesting program. Those interested in the welfare of Virginia and neighborhood will attend.

Geo. Crooks and his sister, Mrs. J. H. Park, were called to New Home Tuesday morning to see their mother who was taken very sick Monday.

Mrs. Streams, a music teacher of near Amoret, was in Virginia and Parktown last week trying to get up a class.

Mrs. Clark Draper is still improving.

Rev. Balock filled his appointment at the Christian church Sunday morning and night.

One of the Barnett children is on the sick list.

The dry weather grumblers have turned to be wet ones. The model man and woman should not complain for he who rules doeth all things well and the model Christian should praise him for his works and not say my corn that is planted will rot, for if it does you are to blame for planting it too soon and you will be to blame if you do not vote for a dry Missouri this fall.

Miss Mayme and Ed Campbell and Allen Duke, of Butler, visited W. Y. Osborn's Saturday and Sunday.

Clarence Welsh and Edna Burk took dinner at Mr. Osborn's Sunday. Miss Guinn, of Butler, is teaching a singing class at New Hope Baptist church.

Harley Warderman went to Rich Hill one day last week and brought home a new gang plow.

Albert Leonard brought home a new buggy in the rain Saturday.

Fred Strober and family and W. M. Hardinger and family took dinner with J. C. Crosswhite's Sunday.

YOUNG AARON.

New Home.

Clover was about again last week.

Grandpa Merritt died quite suddenly Saturday. He was living with his son, Charley.

We learn that there was quite a hailstorm at Rich Hill Saturday. Quite a few farmers are planting corn.

Clover hears that the good people of New Home and vicinity organized a Sunday School at the New Home school Saturday. It is to be hoped that the people will stand by the Superintendent and the work, and not turn their backs on him, as some of them did on the Superintendent three years ago.

Monday will be Mrs. P. Y. Morse's birthday, and some of the neighbors, inasmuch as they could not visit her, went and took their dinner. Mrs. Morse lives with her son, Frank, and has been an invalid for twenty years, and has been a most patient sufferer all those years, and sometimes her suffering is intense, but yet she is cheerful, only waiting to be relieved.

We saw Bob Bennett leading in a new horse the other evening. Bob says that he can't farm without a team.

Rall and Will Hensley are turning the dirt lively on the Bell farm.

Mark Cole, with his three grays and new riding plow are moving dirt, while Uncle Tom, in the old-fashioned way, is getting the stalks off of the ground. When Clover was a boy, we cut the stalks with a hoe, picked and piled them by hand and then burned them, but Uncle Tom dug his down, then picked and piled them.

There seems to be some kind of a malignant sore throat going about over the county seeking whom it may afflict; Missie Miller had one for some two weeks. If it had not been for her nerve, she would have had to dismiss her school, and Miss Ada has had it for two or three days, while their mamma is complaining of being afflicted with it also, and we hear that it is general.

Monday night we had a fine rain, did you? Had some hails, but they were small. We were needing rain, and now if the weather man will just let up at this for about two weeks and give us another one, we will be grateful.

Clover supposes that the work at the new shaft is progressing all right. At least they are doing plenty of shooting.

The drouth is surely broken. We sympathize with the school teachers, who have to walk from a mile to a mile and a half. CLOVER.

West Deepwater.

W. H. Charters & Son delivered fat cattle to Butler this week.

Frank Allen and family, of Butler, spent Sunday on their farm.

A fine rain visited this section Saturday and Monday.

Uncle Phillip Carroll and wife, who have been sick the past week, are improving.

J. H. Baker had the misfortune to lose one of his big boned Poland-China hogs that he purchased of W. H. Charters, Jr.

Mrs. Johnnie Herman, of Culver, spent Sunday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Charters, Sr.

Several of the farmers are contemplating planting corn this week.

Several are at a loss to know where the next wedding will be. Like all Missourians we will have to wait and be sighted.

Uncle John Compton and Uncle George Borland were business callers at Butler Saturday.

The writer learned that one of our young bachelors was sadly disappointed when a certain young lady would arrive here for a summer's vacation, and that she would have a partner for life. Young bachelor, don't get discouraged. There is plenty of fish in the sea.

Mrs. W. C. Turpin will be confined to her bed for several months with a dislocated back. She will be glad to have the neighbors call in and see her. She is some better at present.

O. J. Radford, our hustling merchant at Spruce, has been very busy the last three weeks taking in eggs and poultry and delivering at Butler.

Mrs. Fannie Smith, of near Pleasant Gap, visited her two sisters, Mrs. Jesse Little and Mrs. John Carpenter, also Mrs. L. L. Wix last weeks. Mrs. Smith will leave the last of the week for Kansas City for a few days' visit. From there she will leave for Culbertson, Montana, to spend the summer with her son, Charles, and daughter, Mrs. Joe Wix and family.

James Carroll and children are on the sick list.

The Kegerreis-Kegerreis case is set for April 12th.

Mrs. J. H. Baker and son, Loyd, attended the infirm dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Baker in honor of their son, Ernest, and bride. Young Mr. Baker was a former teacher of the Valley school, and his many friends here wish them much joy and a long and happy life together.

Lige Bohanon, who has been here on a short visit, returned to his home in New Mexico last Saturday.

We take notice of the columns of Pleasant Ridge Items in the Republican-Press where Comette speaks of Farmer John assisting the Democrat candidates of the county ticket. He will stand by every loyal Democrat and fight Cannonism until the judgment day, and if Comette's composer makes the race for Recorder on the Republican ticket, he will need something more than the assistance of Cannon and Cannonism.

Uncle Bennie Young, a former resident of this county, but now resides in New Mexico, is reported very poorly.

Peat Winano and Walter Snodgrass caught quite a catfish the other day, it being as usual a fish story, the fish being so large, it dropped off the hook, but they got it out by fishing again, it weighed five lbs.

Miss Dora Beard and Mrs. Nina McKinley were pleasant callers in Butler Saturday.

There are several bad cases of whooping cough. Emmet Young's baby is very low with the disease at present.

Mrs. John Harshaw's many friends will be glad to hear that her arm is doing fine, and she is looking well. She still has her arm in a bandage yet and was able to be in Spruce Saturday evening.

Bernice Dickerson came home from Kansas City Junction to spend Sunday.

Chas. Parker returned home from Kansas City, after taking a patient to an eye specialist to have their eyes treated.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh Brown are the proud parents of a baby girl, born Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brown. Mother and baby are getting along nicely.

The administrator's sale of Mr. Guy, deceased, was held Saturday, quite a number being present. Mr. Kash conducted the sale.

Mrs. Carl Ludwick and Mrs. Henry Fletcher went to Butler Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Young spent Sunday with O. J. Radford.

Archie Odneal and Peat McCook spent Sunday evening with Misses Grace Vanhoy and Debees Reese.

Sam Spears has been very sick again. He is suffering with stomach trouble.

Miss Mabel Odneal spent Sunday with Miss Pearl Kimble.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vansant visited their daughter, Mrs. Jesse Grimes, Sunday.

Cap Price left Monday for California for several days visit with her parents, who reside there.

Ed. Childers and family, who vacated the Allen farm, moved back near Culver.

Mrs. L. L. Wix purchased a new oil stove of O. J. Radford.

J. H. Baker's children, who have had the whooping cough and bronchitis, are getting better.

Rev. Gather delivered a good sermon at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

The Presbytery will meet this month, and the members of the church are in hopes that they will be supplied with a minister.

Another heavy rain fell here Monday evening. It will not be many days until there will be pasture for stock.

The many friends of Mrs. E. B. Winans, our excellent Spruce central, who has been in very poor health for some time, will be glad to hear that she is improving. FARMER JOHN.

In and Around Mayesburg.

A fine rain was a welcome visitor in this vicinity Saturday afternoon.

Rev. Shelton filled his regular appointment at the Cove Creek Christian church Sunday morning and evening. A good attendance at both services.

A little party was given Saturday afternoon at the home of T. L. White, it being little Ermine's eighth birthday. Light refreshments were served and several little remembrances were received. All had a jolly time and some had to stay all night owing to the rain in the afternoon.

Mr. Guy, wife and little daughter, Helen, spent Saturday and Sunday with their daughter, Grace, who is attending school at Appleton City.

As many as can should attend Sunday School next Sunday at the Christian church as it is a special meeting.

R. K. Godwin and family spent Sunday at Sam Stayton's.

Tuesday was school election.

T. L. White and family spent Sunday at Billie Middleton's.

All the young men in this vicinity seem to be riding about in fine new style buggies.

Sam Farmers are to have a new house, so we understand. They live on widow Merritt's place. She has just finished building some new rooms on her place where Joe Jacobs lives.

Grandma Jacobs is not very well at present.

The Browns are now occupying one of Mr. Guy's houses just south of Mayesburg.

Corn planting is the order of the day. A Neighbor.
